If you have a product or service for the pest management industry, we invite you to consider membership in UPFDA, the industry's only trade association fully dedicated to serving the needs of manufacturers, distributors, formulators, consultants and various service providers to the structural pest control industry.

Member benefits include:

- UPDATE: UPFDA's information-packed quarterly newsletter that keeps members informed of the latest news and industry trends.
- Meetings & Conventions: UPFDA members meet regularly at their general membership meeting, held in conjunction with NPMA PestWorld, as well as at other times throughout the year. UPFDA's Annual Spring Conference features two days of educational sessions designed specifically for industry suppliers and distributors.
- Legislative Representation: UPFDA works closely with various trade groups and government agencies to represent the interests of its constituents at both the state and national level.
- Member Surveys: Regular surveys provide insights into industry trends at the manufacturer, distributor and service level.
- Networking Opportunities: There's no better way to learn what's happening in the industry than to network with some of the industry's most influential and well-connected members.
